Are Believed to Have Been Burned to Death in Minneapolis Fire

TRAPPED BY THE FLAMES

Fire Apparatus Fighting Another Blaze and Machines Reached Hotel Fifteen Minutes After Discovery of Blaze in Basement—Smoke Filled Halls and Stairways

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Minneapolis, Feb. 12.—At least thirteen persons were believed to have lost their lives in a fire which destroyed the Kenwood hotel here shortly after midnight according to police estimates today.

In addition to the known missing, there are eleven other persons who were reported to have been away from their rooms at the time of the fire but not yet reported to the police. One person is known to be dead.

A score of persons were injured, some seriously, by leaping from the top floors of the structure when the fire escape became heated.

One woman, Mrs. Lucile Squire, jumped to her death from the third floor.

Police and fire department officials believe that nearly a score of persons were precipitated into the basement of crumbling floors and buried in the debris, over which thick layers of ice have formed.

Many of the seventy-six guests were transients and the actual death list probably will never be known.

The fire, which apparently started in the basement, spread rapidly and soon the building was enveloped in flames. The stairways were impassable and people rushed to the windows. While figures hung from many windows, others shot through the air into nets and snow drifts.

One woman, her night clothing afame, rushed from a group of hysterical guests on the top floor and dropped out of the window into a snow-drift. She may live.

When the fire broke out, most of the down town apparatus was fighting another fire and it was nearly fifteen minutes before the first company reached the scene. A crowd of spectators who were pushing planks to the lower windows as a means of rescue attacked the firemen because they carried no ladders, according to Fire Chief Charles Ringer. The police soon quelled the disturbance.

The second company arrived with ladders several minutes later.

A number of children were dropped from windows into the arms of spectators. None was seriously hurt.

"We are at sea as to the number of deaths," said Ernest D. Stalker, proprietor of the hotel. "Until the survivors are checked up the death list will be unknown."

Chief Ringer declared recovery of bodies was unlikely, adding that identification would be impossible even if the bodies were dug from the ruins.

While several of the injured were in a serious condition, it was reported at the city hospital, that most of them would recover. One woman who became hysterical after being rescued, ran down the street screaming and her feet were frozen before she was overtaken. Others garbed in misty attire, suffered intensely in the 10 below zero temperature.

While the fire was at its height, Harry Jensen, and his wife crawled to a window ledge on the top floor. For a moment they paused, then Jensen embraced his wife and together they leaped to the street while spectators cheered. Mrs. Jensen was badly injured, but her husband was not seriously hurt.

BERLIN EDITOR THINKS GERARD WAS UNFRIENDLY

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Berlin, Sunday, Feb. 11, via London, Feb. 12.—The Berlin press is confining itself to the most perfunctory references to the departure of former Ambassador Gerard and the American embassy staff. The Lokal Anzeiger, the only newspaper printing editorial comment says:

"It can hardly be said that in the person of the representative of the United States who left yesterday a popular figure disappears from Berlin.

The assertion that he was a pronounced opponent of Germany is stretching the case a bit, yet he was surely no friend of Germany and it may be calmly set down that the relations of the United States and Germany would have reached a far less deplorable stage if the great transatlantic republic had been represented in Berlin in the person of a man who possessed a greater appreciation of the difficulties and peculiarities of our position and who further had been inclined to keep his government correctly informed with respect to the campaign of lies and vilifications to which we are daily exposed.

"It is on the whole, Mr. Gerard was no outspoken friend of Germany he was equally disinclined to spare the blind admiration for England and everything English with which his countrymen seem obsessed. From the beginning of the war he expressed his inability to see how the entente could ever be victorious over the central powers and this opinion he never surrendered."

MUST ABANDON U-BOAT PROGRAM TO GET CONFERENCE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, Feb. 12.—Sharp refusal to consider hints for a discussion of the submarine situation with Germany unless it be preceded by abandonment of the campaign of ruthlessness and restoration of the Sussex pledges was forecast here today.

Official opinion has solidified that Germany's suggestion of negotiations cannot be considered whilst ships are being sunk in a campaign which has brought forth the morale and politeness of the German people, with the resultant good effect, was being jeopardized.

Delay followed delay and one excuse was made after another until Friday night when the foreign office suddenly announced its willingness to permit Mr. Gerard to depart on the following day. The names of correspondents and of other persons were added to the list but even when petty delays and uncertainties followed until shortly before the train was boarded.

Mr. Gerard's farewells were said in a friendly though formal manner. Many Germans were in the throng at the station, which consisted partly of Americans who had not received permission to depart on the embassy train and must await the police routine before being allowed to leave. The fact that it was not generally known that Mr. Gerard was departing reduced the demonstration at the South German stations to a minimum of curious crowds.

The older women and children were assigned to the sleeping cars on the train. The younger persons rode in the day coaches and made the trip of 20 hours to the border with no serious discomforts. The party was accompanied by two representatives of the foreign office and guarded carefully by men from the secret service. The customs inspectors and other examinations at the border were relaxed to a mere formality.

They regard it as somewhat strange that Germany should now show a willingness to negotiate on a subject she put into effect without discussion with this country or any attempt to give the American view point consideration.

MAN ADMITS TO POLICE HE HELPED TO KILL MODEL

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Philadelphia, Feb. 12.—Captain of Detectives Tate today said that he had received a telegram from the police of Montreal, Canada, that a man named Frederick J. Farrell, 25 years old, serving in the army medical corps, had surrendered himself in that city declaring he was wanted in connection with the murder of Mazio Colbert, the advertising art model slain in her apartments here. Dec. 29. Farrell, according to the first time the receipt of such an offer through the Swiss minister regard the suggestion as an attempt to cloud the issue and weaken the government's position. The gave indications that it must be met by prompt action.

BAHAMAS ARE DESERTED WHEN RAIDER APPEARS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

New York, Feb. 12.—The German sea raiding activities in the southern Atlantic have terminated abruptly the winter resort season in the Bahama islands, according to persons who arrived here today on the steamer Morro Castle. Hotels have closed because the British authorities ordered them out at night, passengers said, and hundreds of tourists have fled from the islands, causing the business places they patronize to close.

GERARD

And Party Finally Reaches Switzerland After Many Annoying Delays

FAREWELLS WERE FORMAL

German Officials Seemed to Make No Effort to Facilitate Arrangements For Party's Departure—Virtually Was Prisoner As He Was Not Permitted to Communicate With U. S.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Zurich, Feb. 11, via Paris, Feb. 12.—Most of the members of Ambassador Gerard's large party gave a genuine sigh of relief this afternoon when the Swiss border was reached for the strain of the last few days told more or less on the majority of the travelers.

Ambassador Gerard met cordially the hoard of newspaper men who crowded about him on his arrival at Zurich, clamoring for interviews for papers all over the civilized world, but he kept rigidly to his determination not to speak for publication until after he has reported to President Wilson in Washington. The strain of the situation for the Americans in Berlin had been heightened toward the end by the efforts of the German authorities to induce Mr. Gerard to open negotiations for an amendment to the Prussian-American treaty of 1799. At the same time the German newspapers were flooded with reports of the seizure of German ships by America and with stories of difficulties encountered by Count von Bernstorff. Ambassador Gerard was refused permission to communicate in cipher with Washington and the authorities ignored all denials of the stories printed in the German newspapers until an official message received through the Spanish embassy made it clear that the stories were false. Prior to this, Ambassador Gerard's telephone wires were cut, his mail and telegraphic privileges stopped—so that he could not even instruct the American consuls—and he was, in his own words, a prisoner.

The question of supplying trained gun crews for merchantmen is more difficult from a departmental point of view. There is objection to withdrawing men from the active service of the navy at this time and there is also some question as to what effect such a step would have on the status of ship. French ship owners furnished guns by their navy were required to make oath that they were to be handled by civilian crews.

The possibility that the navy might supply guns indirectly through loan or sale to ship owner has received some consideration but a preference for direct action by the department in placing the gun aboard is indicated by the ship owners.

Boston, Feb. 12.—The coldest weather of the winter was reported by a number of points in New England today. Germany Holds American Sailors Prisoners and Asks Spain to Get Facts Regarding Detention of the Crews of Ships at New York and Other Ports—Statement Issued [ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Berlin, Feb. 12.—(Wireless to Associated Press, Via Sayville.)—Foreign Minister Zimmerman today informed the Associated Press that he had requested the Swiss government to make inquiry in Washington regarding the status of the crews of interned German ships in American ports.

Pending an answer the 72 Americans taken by the German raider and brought in by the Yarrowdale, whose release had been agreed to, are being held in Germany, the foreign secretary said.

During the past week recurring rumors have reached Berlin by way of London in which it was announced that the United States government had sequestered the German ships and interned their crews. No definite official denial having been received, the German government was prompted to ask the government of Switzerland to obtain specific information.

"We could not consent to the release of the Yarrowdale prisoners, which was taken to be agreed to a week ago," said the foreign secretary.

These men had been taken off armed merchantmen and their status had been established. They will be liberated just as soon as we learn the fate of the German crews in American ports.

The chancellor said the total expenditure since the beginning of the war was 4,200,000,000 pounds. At the end of the current year the national debt would stand between 3,500,000,000 and 3,600,000,000 pounds.

Advances to allies and dominions would be approximately 300,000,000 pounds.

The number of applications and the amount applied for by the general public for the new loan, the chancellor said, were larger than ever before.

THE KROONLAND SEES U-BOAT IN ATTACK ON SHIP

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM.

New York, Feb. 12.—The arrival today of the steamer New York brought the number of American trans-Atlantic passenger ships at this port up to four. The New York sailed from Liverpool on February 3, and according to wireless messages received from her passengers, passed through the submarine war zone without incident.

The American liner Kroonland docked here yesterday and the St. Louis and St. Paul of the same line are still at their piers while their owners await news from Washington in regard to the policy recommended by American shipping that would risk the dangers of the German blockade.

The Kroonland left Liverpool on January 31, the day before the German declaration, and had an eventful voyage. One day from port she witnessed the destruction of a Dutch freighter by shell fire from a submarine. The crew of the Dutch ship was towed away by the submarine in a life boat.

On February 5, a strange object that looked like the funnel of a steamship partly submerged or the conning tower of a submarine was sighted about two miles away. A few hours later the officers of the Kroonland saw a mysterious looking steamer which they could not identify but which they thought might have been a German raider acting as supply ship to one or more U-boats. This impression was strengthened by the fact that the stranger did not return signals.

The German liner Andania, from Liverpool, January 31, and the Italian steamer Giuseppe Verdi from Mediterranean ports reached their docks here today.

The British liner Cedric, which sails today for Liverpool without passengers, will carry 5,000 sacks of mail which has been delayed here for the past week aboard the St. Louis.

Major Spencer Cosby, former military attaché of the American embassy in Paris, who recently suffered temporary loss of his voice as the result of an experiment with asphyxiating gas, was a passenger on the New York. He said he was going direct to Washington and would not talk of his experiences.

The fourth ship under the American flag to sail from this port for a European destination since Germany's renewal of unrestricted submarine warfare, got away last night. She is 225-foot freighter Orwo, of the Federal Forwarding company bound for Genoa, carrying a general cargo of 2,500 tons. Her master and many of her crew are Americans.

"I very cheri! My send you the twenty dollars, which sum you say is necessary to save your land from sale."

In the other, to a half brother, Johnson, he writes:

Kingsley Cosgrove, son of Rev. T. A. Cosgrove, former pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Newark, now of Asheville, N. C., has enlisted in the Canadian contingent of the British army, now preparing for a call to the European battle front.

Young Cosgrove is just 18 years of age and enlisted as soon as he was eligible.

Considerable surprise was occasioned here this morning over the announcement that Mr. W. T. Irwin, the well known news dealer, and Miss Sarah Daugherty, daughter of Mr. Charles Daugherty, Sr., had been married last night.

Misses Minnie and Clara Clark, who have been the guests of Ella and Florence Miller at their home on West Church street, have returned to Columbus.

Little Davy McMullen, the night messenger boy at the B. & O. depot, met with quite a misfortune at an early hour this morning. He was delivering a message to some hotel and undertook to cross the canal on the ice, which, as he was about in the center, gave way. Two officers heard his cries and quickly rescued him.

If your skin is yellow-complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10¢ and 25¢ per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

ASTONISHING RESULTS FROM RHEUMATIC REMEDY

Eases Pain—Soreness, Swelling, Stiffness Taken Out of Joints and Muscles.

Rheumatic plasters, liniments, salves, oils, baths and serums have proven ineffective in the treatment of rheumatism. They have failed because the condition causing the intense suffering and agony is deep-seated and only internal treatment that seeks out the cause—roots it out—dissolves it—banishes it entirely from the system—can afford any true relief or affect a real, lasting cure.

For 26 years Dr. Whitehill's Rheumatic Remedy has been before the public. Thousands of sufferers from rheumatism in its many forms have obtained the relief they sought by taking this old and reliable remedy. Rheumatic aches and pains in legs and backs have vanished, soreness and swelling have been taken out, stiff joints have been limbered, crutches have been thrown away and canes discarded.

Dr. Whitehill's Rheumatic Remedy goes straight to the seat of trouble. Its purpose is to dissolve uric acid and other poisons causing pain, swelling and stiffness—to cleanse the system of these health-destroying forces and restore health and strength.

The many years this preparation has been on the market and the great number of men and women who have had their pains and aches eased through its use is mute testimony of its value. All druggists sell Dr. Whitehill's Rheumatic Remedy, and a $50 box undoubtedly will give great relief even in aggravated cases.

Gossip From State House

Columbus, O., Feb. 12.—Meeting in joint session in the hall of the House of Representatives tonight, members of the Ohio General Assembly will observe Lincoln's birthday. Former Gov. James E. Campbell will be the principal speaker. The House calendar for the day contained a picture of Abraham Lincoln on the first page of the record of bills up for consideration containing many of Lincoln's sayings.

The first person in line entered the lobby shortly after midnight and carried a lunch and small store box with him. He was joined about one o'clock by a companion from McDaniel's restaurant and at three o'clock four others took places in line. At four o'clock there were ten in line and at five a dozen and a half.

An orchestra rehearsal was held yesterday at the Auditorium and a musical rehearsal will be held Wednesday afternoon. The singers and performers are all ready for the rise of the curtain Wednesday evening at 8:10 o'clock and it is requested that everybody be in their seat at that time as no one will be seated after the curtain rises until the completion of the first part. It is not fair to disturb people who come early in order that they may enjoy the performance without annoyance.

The entertainment will not be draggy and the management promises to have the performance over at 10:40, so that cabs and autos may be ordered for that hour. The minstrel this year promises to be the most successful ever given by the Elk organization. The songs and jokes are all clever and the special acts in the oil will be enjoyed by everyone.

The closing act, the Hawaiian scene, with cake walkers on a visit to Honolulu, will be one of the numerous hits of the big show. A special Hula Hula dancing costume has been ordered from New York for Dave Murphy and his six dancing sprites. If you have not already secured your ticket drop around to the box office and make a reservation. No tickets held at the box office after six o'clock Wednesday or Thursday nights.

Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Toledo, Youngstown, Dayton, Canton and Akron are the Ohio cities that would be permitted to consolidate with their respective counties, under the resolutions offered in the Senate and the House proposing a constitutional amendment allowing consolidation of city and county governments in the more populous counties of the state.

Governor Cox has urged Senators to speed up legislation giving relief to debt-burdened cities and school districts and as a result the Terrell bill authorizing local taxing districts by a vote of the people to increase levies to pay debts above the limitations of the Smith law for a limited number of years will likely be reported out this week.

Governor Cox is expected to sign the first law made by the present legislature this week—the amendment to the workmen's compensation law excluding private liability insurance companies from competing with the workmen's compensation fund. This bill was initiated in the legislature, the initiated petition bearing the governor's signature. It was passed by an almost unanimous vote.

Among other bills that may reach the governor for his signature this week are the Lloyd bill providing for the erection of a coliseum at the state fair grounds to house the National Dairy Show to be held in October, the bill separating state and national tickets on the ballot and the bill providing for rotation of names on the primary ballot and the bill changing the date of issuing saloon licenses from November to May.

What a Poor Boy Contends With.

At many Lincoln day banquets the thought of the hour is Lincoln's democratic spirit, his rise from poverty to great fame, and the chance this country gives the poor boy. Yet as the poor man's son in our schools hears the Lincoln thought expounded by the teacher, he sees very little chance for him to rise. He would trade his chances of being President, or even of acquiring a sizeable bank account, for one clay marble.

The boy in Lincoln's position 75 years ago suffered from adverse exterior circumstances. Without education and stimulating association, there was little chance that genius would be fanned into flame.

If the poor boy of today has good qualities of mind and heart, his teacher will discover it. Thousands of such rough diamonds are all the time being picked out from the dirtiest dust heaps, and are winning their way.

But in the bright boy's own heart there are too many seeds of decay. There are the corroding influences of the street and the loafing hand-outs. In many a home of poverty high ideals have been preserved, and the boy is kept from these corrupting influences and urged on to show what is in him. But if home poverty is due to vice, and the boy runs wild in the street, the best school advantages can do little for him.

So the poor boy should realize that it is all up to him. He has a good chance in our democratic America if he can but rise above the low level of the street. Let him do any honest work out of school hours, save his money and before long he will have a good name in the business community. Then it is only a strong and steady pull, and his future is secure.

Patriotism and War Scare.

Formerly they used to observe Washington's birthday by reading his farewell address, but now they do it by sticking up red paper hatchets around the room.

It was finally decided before the literacy law was passed, not to require immigrants to pass an examination in algebraic equations and Latin grammar.

There is a considerable number of the present residents of this country who might learn to read and write without any terrible suffering.

If that leak committee doesn't hurry up, the speculators won't know where to get advance information about the next break.

A Matter of Justice.

(Columbus Dispatch.)

The state senate will soon have before it for consideration the bill introduced by Senator Terrell of Cleveland, to amend the statute by which the practice of healing by spiritual means or prayer is put to a certain extent under the state medical board, and prevents Christian Science practitioners from charging fees for their services. The bill now pending provides that, "Nothing in this chapter (the chapter of the code of Ohio that creates the state medical board and regulates the practice of medicine) shall be construed so as to interfere in any way with the practice of those who endeavor to prevent or cure disease or suffering by spiritual means or prayer."

The only pertinent argument against the pending bill made at a recent hearing before the senate judiciary committee was that since physicians must have a certain training before they can practice their profession, therefore Christian Scientists should be required to have the same or similar training before they can practice their religion.

This argument falls far short of amounting to a valid objection. It takes no account of the fact that training should correspond to profession and practice. The practice of medicine and the practice of Christian Science are parallel in so far as they aim to prevent or cure disease. There they diverge. Our practice is based on diagnosis and calls for the choice and use of dangerous agencies. The other practice is not based on physical conditions, but on spiritual truth, and its one remedy is admitted by everybody to be harmless and by many people to be beneficial. Therefore a law which puts the practice of healing the sick by spiritual means or prayer under the jurisdiction of a medical board is palpably unjust. Recent divisions in California and New York have upheld measures done what the Terrell bill is intended to do.

In the New York case, the chief judge, Willard Bartlett, who has no small reputation as a jurist, said:

"I concur in the construction of the statute. But I would go further. I deny the right of the legislature to make it a crime to treat disease by prayer."

Twenty-six states has statutes similar to that of New York, and only three or four states put any let or hindrance on the practice of Christian Science. Ohio is one of the few that imposes this injustice.

An Opportunity.

Speaking of the present international crisis and the fact that a single overt act upon the part of Germany may participate war Henry Clews in his weekly financial letter says in part:

"Common prudence dictates ample preparedness on our part, in case of hostilities, our fleet would be immediately available, and could co-operate with the Allies. Our aid in this respect would be prompt and valuable. On land, it might be some months before we could render vital assistance. There is practically no chance of invasion in the United States, though a considerable guarding force would be required at home. To send over even a half a million of well-seasoned and properly trained men would require a considerable period, while the forwarding of a million or more would be a still greater task owing to the difficulties of transportation and equipment. The most efficient first aid we could offer the Allies would be co-operation of the American fleet, a prompt and ample supply of munitions for France, Italy and Russia, and more liberal financing of these nations in order to assist Great Britain, which has taken on the brunt of financing the Allies. We could also do much in building new merchant steamers with all possible energy in order to replace those destroyed by submarines. Such efforts would be quite as advantageous to the United States as to the Allies. These vessels could be constructed for strictly American owners, and if properly managed would constitute a very profitable investment for the nation as well as the owners. Such an enterprise would be simply taking advantage of a grand opportunity for the immediate establishment on a firm basis of the United States as a maritime power. For several years to come ocean tonnage will be scarce and freight rates high. No such attractive opportunity ever occurred in our history, and American enterprise should be quick to take advantage."

Wiping Out the Hyphen.

(New York World.)

Representatives from twenty-eight States in the German-American National Alliance met in Philadelphia Thursday and pledged their organization to serve the Government of the United States in case of war by fighting "under the command of President Wilson as our Commander in Chief as loyally as German-Americans fought under Commander in Chief Abraham Lincoln in the Civil War."

There has never been any well-founded doubt as to where the vast majority of Americans of German descent would be found if Germany forced war upon the United States. None the less is it a pleasure to give the widest currency and credit to action so admirable. German-American volunteers under the flag, as promised by the Alliance, would be the final answer to those who, abroad or at home, have expected, hoped or feared that American citizens would betray their country. Of that there need not be and need never have been any fear.

Since the war began there has been much unwise talk and some unwise action that might support the theory of a divided Nation. But the past is past. The Nation is united by pressure from without as no internal power of cohesion could have cemented it. Instead of bickerings and mutter of disloyalty on the part of any element of foreign derivation, thousands of subjects of the European Central Powers in every corner of the land are thronging to take the citizen's oath.

"Forty-eight" and its martyrs are not forgotten by German-American descendants. There will be men, at need, to lift again the sword of Sigel and of Schurz in defense of the Republic.

Blocking the Neutrals.

(New York Times.)

If Germany has taken into account all the probable results of her course as fully as is indicated by the reports, she must have calculated upon a result which, though not apparent at first glance, is reasonably sure. That is that if the United States is forced into the war, and if Germany's war zone is as effective as she expects it to be, she will have automatically blockaded the European neutrals.

Granting that she can succeed in cutting off the United States from Europe, she will also, if we enter the war, cut the United States off from Holland, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland, Denmark and Spain. If we become her enemy, she will attack our ships wherever she can find them and will impartially cut off our trade from every country in Europe. What will be the effect of that severance upon our commercial course?

The effect will be that we shall strain every nerve to deliver our goods to Great Britain, France and Italy, which will be fighting our adversary. We shall do that merely as a matter of military policy, if for no other reason. The neutrals will be the chief sufferers by the effectiveness of Germany's blockade. At present Germany undoubtedly gets a good deal of what we export to them, notwithstanding the agreements by which they are restrained from delivering such goods to her. There is a thriving trade in smuggled goods across the frontiers. When the neutrals are blockaded from us as well as from England, nothing will be smuggled. The "starvation" of Germany will be accelerated rather than retarded.

American Shipping.

Technically the United States and Germany are not at war. They only severed diplomatic relations. But actually Germany is deriving all the military advantage that could be gained from war with the United States without incurring the penalties or disabilities. * * * It seems to The World that the President should go before Congress and ask permission to employ the full naval and military powers of the United States to protect American shipping and American citizens in the exercise of their lawful rights. — New York World.

Von Bernstorff.

Let us remember this to the everlasting credit of Count von Bernstorff: Whatever indiscretions he may have committed, whatever offense he may have given by overzeal, he has worked unceasingly to keep peace between Germany and the United States, and if his persistent appeals had been heeded by Berlin the present crisis could not have arisen. — New York World.

State's Expenses.

If the figures were not given one would find it difficult to believe that California spends more for its state government than any other state in the union except New York. Last year California expended $34,118,473 for its government, although it has a population of perhaps 2,750,000, whereas New York has a population of somewhat more than 9,000,000. Texas, with a population of 40 per cent greater and an area 50 per cent greater, spent only $16,361,780 in 1915. — Salt Lake Tribune.

Life Insurance.

Fifty years ago the man who insured himself was looked upon by his neighbors as a cross between a well meaning crank and a blasphemous dare-devil who presumed to cast dice upon the inscrutable decrees of Providence. Twenty-five years ago the average life insurance agent was looked upon by his neighbor as a nimble-tongued schemer who gained his living at the expense of other people's credibility. Now-a-days the man who is not insured somewhere somehow, for the benefits of somebody, is very apt to be a bad risk of some kind, either mentally, morally or physically. — Los Angeles Times.

Four Heralds of Spring.

Farmers of Patton township are a unit in declaring that an early spring is in store for them, as four unmistakable signs have come to their notice, which combination, they aver, never has gone wrong.

These signs are the sighting of a robin, a flock of geese flying north, a toad found under a stone and thousands of crows in the fields. The robin was seen last week during a brief warm spell, and later the wild geese were heard and seen flying north and the toad was found. The crows have not left the fields this winter, according to the farmers, but have stayed around home. — Pittsburgh Leader.

Many parents conceive that their whole duty is to reward and forbid enforcing their prohibition with penalties of varying degrees of severity, forgetting that they are dealing with a sensitive being endowed with all the desires, inclinations, and tendencies they themselves have, and that if these natural feelings are constantly suppressed and thwarted they are sure to seek and find some outlet for themselves.

Our Boys and Girls

Harsh punishment has no place in the bringing up of a baby. A baby knows nothing of right and wrong but follows his natural inclinations. If these lead him in the wrong direction the mother must be on hand to guide him in another and better one and to divert his eager interest and his energy into wholesome and normal directions. This is the golden rule in the training of babies and one which applies to the training of children of all ages.

ONE CENT SALE

That the "minute men" of the Chamber of Commerce, who prepared and served the recent dinner in honor of the Baltimore & Ohio officials and other distinguished guests, made a hit is evidenced by the following letter to President Beggs from Vice President Arthur W. Thompson of the Baltimore & Ohio Railway which says in part:

"I wish to take this opportunity to congratulate you on the excellent dinner which the Chamber of Commerce of Newark prepared for fifty cents plate. The efficient method of handling this so attracted my attention that I have been thinking of it constantly since that time. In fact, I have rather decided that it would be a mighty good thing if the railroads could have a West and Means Committee that would accomplish such results as yours did, and in this connection it would seem that a great many other trade bodies could emulate your example to good advantage."

Through the volunteer system, a delicious dinner not only was prepared for fifty cents, but it was served in forty-five minutes and 257 persons were taken care of.

The minute men will also handle the next dinner meeting which will be held during the latter part of this month or the first week in March, when an even greater attendance is expected.

The program committee is seeking several big speakers for the gathering.

AUDITORIUM
Lid Lifters Tonight

The "Lid Lifters" company appears at the Auditorium today. Amusement patrons of that house will witness a portion of that act said to be unique in every detail that has up-to-date advance comedy. Without deviating from the customary form of this style of entertainment, which includes broad comedy, lively musical features and all forms of dancing, the program will be the show as it is with the complete elimination of those elements that have heretofore precluded the patronage of ladies and children. Special care was exercised, it is said, in the selection of musical features with a view to ensuring the latest popular songs to give an entirely fresh twist to their presentation.

Special Lincoln Birthday performances will be given today and no doubt capacity business will rule for the Lid Lifters engagement today.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

Wm. H. Kibble's world's greatest production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will appear at the Auditorium on Next Tuesday. Maurice Tourneur, the Parisian stage producer and former artist and now a popular novelist, age 40, took up the direction of pictures, with the director of "The Bride of the Chalet," the new picture in which Mary Pickford will soon be presented here by Artcraft. He is a master of artistic detail and in this, his first work with the camera, has shown great effects and a finesse that will be seen here at the Auditorium.

To Announce Winners.

The announcement for winners in the Annual George Washington Essay contest will be made some time this week.

ALHAMBRA.

Tonight and Tomorrow.

There is a new kind of motion picture hero being introduced to the screen by Owen Moore in "A Girl Like That." This girl is a young, well-voiced, the Panama Player Film Company with Irene Fenwick. This new species of hero is disguised by those queer looking tortoise shell rimmed glasses that a man look like a cross between a Harvard student and a bull-fighter instead of being a rollicking, voice-

The Girl Who Smiles.

"The Girl Who Smiles," the musical comedy, which from all reports, is decidedly unusual on account of possessing the added merit of being of interest and novelty of scenic invention, comes to the Auditorium next Friday.

Those who are in touch with all the worth-while musical comedies produced in the metropolis, will not need to be reminded that "The Girl Who Smiles" after its hearing at the Lyric in New York, was taken to the Longacre Theatre, on West Forty-Eighth Street, where it ran for 200 performances, and completely captivated the New York critics, who did not hesitate to declare that it was far superior to any musical comedy offered in years.

The emphatic song hits which include no less than twenty numbers have among them "Teach Me to Smile," "Let Us Dance," "This Has Just Begun," "Your Picture," "At Last United," "My Pauline," "The Story of the Sparrow," "You Are My Little Cupid," "A Honeymoon in May," "Who Is She?" "Dance Me Good-Bye," "Oh Dear Marie," and one of such beauty as to linger indefinitely and afford the greatest kind of musical gratification.

Mail orders now, with seats selling tomorrow.

Lazy Bill.

The Peculiar Comedian, W. B. Parton will present his new play "Lazy Bill" at the Auditorium for one day, next Saturday. Mr. Parton needs no introduction to local theater patrons, as he has been here for many seasons in his various productions and has many friends and admirers.
